CONSTRUCTION AFTER DEMOLITION – REUSE OF NON-CONFORMING LOTS

Since the Town of Sudbury Zoning Bylaws were recodified in 2003, Section 2460B. Construction after Demolition requires a Special Permit from the Zoning Board of Appeals if the total floor area of the proposed structure exceeds the total floor area of the original non-conforming structure.

The Zoning Board of Appeals has developed a set of decision making principles and Special Permit conditions it uses to try to reach consistent decisions and help prevent problems that have occurred with tear-down situations in the past.

Principles

- It is in the best interest of our community to reuse existing previously developed lots, rather than encourage the development of our remaining open spaces.
- Rebuilding houses on non-conforming lots provides the Town with the opportunity to remedy prior problems such as setback deficiencies, houses built at awkward angles, houses located that detract from the streetscape, drainage issues, and houses located as to detract from the privacy of abutters.

SPECIAL PERMIT APPLICATION

- While the Zoning Board of Appeals does not apply a rigid formula such as floor area to lot size ratio, particularly with smaller lots, it is far more likely to approve applications that are consistent with the general scale of the surrounding neighborhood and are located so as not to loom over the street or a neighboring house. To that end, the Zoning Board of Appeals shall require architectural drawings showing front, rear, and side elevations. On sloping lots or if the grade of the proposed structure will be significantly higher than the one being replaced, the Zoning Board of Appeals may require a topographical plan.
- With regard to front yard setbacks, as a general guideline, when one or one and half story homes are proposed to be replaced by two or two and a half story homes, the Zoning Board of Appeals prefers that these taller homes be sited further back from the street. The Zoning Board of Appeals is more likely to approve applications with 60 foot front yard setbacks than applications which only satisfy the minimum setback requirements. Similarly, in neighborhoods where the houses are generally set back further than 60 feet, the Zoning Board of Appeals is more likely to approve an application that is consistent with the neighborhood norms. Configurations of the roof and facades are also taken into consideration.
- The Zoning Board of Appeals encourages Applicants to meet with abutters to review proposed projects and reach agreement on neighborly-issues such as sightlines and screening, prior to a public hearing.
- The Zoning Board of Appeals encourages Applicants to investigate the feasibility of donating the old house for use by the Town's Housing Trust or the Sudbury Housing Authority. The cost of relocating the structure may not be substantially different than demolishing it.
- Except in circumstances where the building remains in use as a residence during construction, the Zoning Board of Appeals encourages the removal of the old house before construction begins on the new.

Standard Special Permit Conditions

These standard conditions will be included in each Special Permit. Other situation specific conditions (e.g., location of driveway, prohibition of removing trees screening an abutter, installation of new plantings, etc.) may also be applied.

- Construction must begin no later than one (1) year after the Special Permit is issued.
- Construction must be completed no later than one (1) year after commencement.
- In situations where the old structure remained in residential use during construction, the old structure must be removed with six (6) weeks after a Certificate of Occupancy is obtained for the new structure.
