

Invisible Chains: From Domestic Violence to Coercive Control

March 1st, 4:30-6:00 PM

Lisa Fontes, Ph.D.

UMass Amherst

Expert in Coercive Control

To register for the free virtual workshop: massfamily.org/events

Massachusetts has introduced two bills this session (HD 1844 and SD 1975) that would allow coercive control to be considered as a form of domestic abuse.

This event, intended for survivors, advocates, and allies, will cover the following:

1. The tactics of coercive control in intimate relationships.
2. How coercive control shapes a victim/survivor's behavior.
3. How to improve your ability to detect and intervene in situations of coercive control and intimate partner abuse.
4. How changes in the law can better protect women and children.
5. How you can get involved.

Lisa Fontes is the author of Invisible Chains: Overcoming Coercive Control in Your Intimate Relationship and writes regularly for domesticshelters.org.

MASS FAMILY
ADVOCACY COALITION
Making Family Court Better for All