Pantry Brook – Bridge Work

A photograph of a stone arch bridge under construction. The bridge's abutments are made of grey stone blocks. The bridge deck is a dark, flat surface. The bridge spans over a stream that is filled with large, grey, angular rocks. Several orange and white striped safety poles are positioned along the top of the bridge structure. The background shows a line of trees with some autumn-colored leaves under a blue sky with light clouds. The text 'Pantry Brook Bridge' is overlaid in white, bold, sans-serif font on the right side of the image, with a green horizontal line underneath it.
